Technology of image recognition, cell isolation and documentation

The ALS CellCelector combines precise robotic technology with a sophisticated image processing software.
The integrated inverted microscope enables work under brightfield, phase contrast and fluorescence conditions.

The workflow of the ALS CellCelector is divided into three steps:

- Image recognition
- Cell harvesting
- Documentation

The settings of the sequences can be specifically defined by the user.